Autumn in the Garden

We've had a busy week trying to get as many weeds out of the garden as we can. We hope to get a few things planted before the weather gets cold. What would you like to grow in the garden?

Weeding can be relaxing, friendly and sometimes challenging. It's good to work together to make something great happen.

Sometimes we dig up treasure: pieces of pottery; crystals; mini beasts and their eggs and even a fossil!

Some of us can't resist looking for bugs - aren't they fascinating!

We took a close look at the plants and flowers and had a go at drawing them.

A usual, there was plenty of activity all around the garden. Here are some of the things that spark our interest and get us challenging ourselves...
